Starting on May 13th, Sara D'angelos, Reference librarian at West Warwick Public library, will be running classes for any librarians who are interested in playing or running games of Dungeons & Dragons for patrons! Classes are over Zoom on May 13th, 20th, and 27th at 6pm each. After the classes, librarians will take part in a mini-campaign (3 sessions, dates TBD), and then each will run a one-session game for the rest of the class.

The classes cover the basics of the game: what the game is, how to get started, how to make characters, how to run games, and resources for librarians and patrons alike.

For more information and to sign up, contact Sara at sara@wwpl.org or (401) 828-3750 x4.

Class 1: May 13, 6pm
-Introduction to Dungeons & Dragons as a game & library program
-The basic aspects of the game
-What is needed to play it (as well as helpful resources)
-How it can be adjusted to different age groups

Class 2: May 20, 6pm
-Introduction to Character Creation
-Different ways to create characters
-Librarians will be creating their own characters

Class 3: May 27, 6pm
-Introduction to Running the game
-Different types and lengths of games
-Librarians will use their characters to go through a combat scenario and get first-hand experience with the mechanics of the game